

WILSON ANSWERS FALL'S QUESTION

President Says He Expects Normal Times Soon After Treaty and League Are Ratified

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 21—President Wilson has no power to declare peace by proclamation nor could he consent to take such action prior to ratification of the formal treaty of peace by the Senate, he so wrote to Senator Fall, in answer to one of 20 questions the Senator presented at the White House conference Tuesday. As to the question of when normal conditions will be restored, he said he could only express the confident opinion that immediate ratification of the treaty and acceptance of the League of Nations covenant would "certainly within the near future reduce the cost of living," both here and abroad, through restoration of production and commerce to normal. To a question relating to disposition of the German's possessions, he said, the treaty conveyed no title to the allied powers, but "merely entrusts disposition of the territory in question to their decision."

Some Real Wrestling Matches At Carnival

Some great wrestling matches are being held nightly at the carnival which is exhibiting on the Deatherage lot. Gus Anderson, athletic manager, is meeting all comers, and paying $1 a minute to any who can stay that long without him throwing them. Anderson weighs 162 pounds. Two Richmond boys have been successful in staying with the professional and have picked up a good sized roll of his money. They are Allen Porte, of the Central Service Station, who stayed with Anderson for 22 minutes, and Ed Baxter, of the Baxter Garage, who couldn't be put down for 17 minutes and so collected $17. Anderson says that these are two of the best amateur wrestlers he ever saw. One or the other of them will go on again tonight. Anderson is also trying to arrange a boxing show for his tent. The admission is 25 cents and everyone who has seen his show has more than gotten his money's worth.

Letcher Jailer To Be Tried

It is likely that Jailer Fess Whitaker, author and rough rider, will be tried in the Circuit Court at Whitesburg this week on a charge of bootlegging whisky in the main streets of Whitesburg some time ago. Whitaker at the time was heavily fined and locked in his own jail. In jail he took an appeal to the Circuit Court. Later he attacked county officials, including County Judge Sam Collins, Sheriff Jim Tolliver and others and again landed in jail. Later he escaped, but returned last week to stand trial, but proceedings were delayed by the accidental shooting of his little 8-year-old son, Kirk, who has since been confined in the Seco hospital. The boy, it is believed, will recover.

HON. W. B. SMITH AT THE INSTITUTE

An address by Hon. W. B. Smith, of Richmond, featured the morning session of the Madison County Teachers' Institute today. Mr. Smith always has something good to tell any body before which he appears. His experience is so varied and his fund of information so vast that he is always listened to with deep interest and closest attention.

Wednesday afternoon's session of the institute began with music by Dr. Myers. Mr. Eubank announced that the subject of "The Betterment of My District," was the topic before the institute for the afternoon. Miss Marie Quillen told what she had done for the district of Newby thru and with cooperation of her patrons and pupils. She has a record of splendid work accomplished by a teacher who is not afraid to work.

Miss Adelia Fox told of the almost impossible work she had done in her district, Narrow Gap, near Berea. Miss Mary Lee Colyer told of the good work she had done in the mining town of Wheelright. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to conditions of school buildings, local conditions, and surroundings.

Thursday morning's session was opened with devotional exercises by Mr. Burke of Cincinnati, former Superintendent of Public Instruction and at present a representative of the Humane Society of Washington.

Mr. Eubank introduced Hon. W. B. Smith who gave the teachers a splendid talk. Mr. Smith impressed them with their responsibilities, and the magnificent field for accomplishment of good that lies before their profession. His address was one of the best that has been delivered before the institute and was enjoyed and appreciated by all who heard him.

Dr. Myers took charge of the musical program again before the 10 o'clock recess.

After recess Mr. Jack Johnson, representative of the Lyons-Carnahan Publishing Company, gave a short talk to the teachers on reading and what his company had to offer.

He was followed by Dr. Coates, who explained to the teachers what the Normal has to offer those teachers who are here at the very door of this institution and who do not take advantage of the splendid opportunity given them.

Mr. Eubank took up the "Reading Circle" question, suggesting the broadening effect of the splendid books which have been selected for the teachers by the State Board. The time for noon recess coming at the close of this talk, adjournment was taken until 1:30 o'clock p. m.

TURLEY'S FINE HOGS PLEASE CUBANS

W. B. Turley has just received word that the Kentucky Red Berkshire hogs he shipped to Cuba have made a big hit in the Pearl of the Antilles, and are giving much satisfaction to their new owners. A recent letter from there had this to say of them:

July 24, 1919.
Mr. W. B. Turley,
Richmond, Ky.
Dear Sir:

You will recall that along about January first 1918 the Cuban Government through its agent, Dr. Crespo, purchased from you six Red gilts and two boars.

I am just in receipt of a letter from Dr. Crespo stating that the results in breeding from these hogs have been good, with nothing to regret. One of the boars has made a remarkable record. Out of a total number of sows bred to him in nine months, 65 were impregnated, resulting in 505 pigs, 254 females and 251 males from native sows.

You will be interested in knowing of this success with your stock, and I take pleasure in passing the information along to you.

Very respectfully,
R. G. Lawton

THINKS FARM PRICES WILL CONTINUE UP

O. T. Wallace, one of the members of the United Realty Company who in Richmond conducting the lot sale on Lancaster avenue, has been very active in the sale and transfer of Blue Grass farm land in the past few weeks. He has just received a letter from a real estate agent in South Carolina, which stated that the 1919 tobacco crop, although not up to expectations in quality, is bringing from 50 to 60 cents, and that the price of farm land has increased proportionally to $200 to $300 per acre.

Mr. Wallace predicts a record-breaking price for tobacco in Kentucky when the fall season opens, which will be followed by a proportionate increase in the price of farm land and city real estate. Wallace is holding a series of auction sales all during the month of August. In addition to the tract here, he will sell two tracts in Nicholasville, one of small farm tracts in the Blue in Fayette and Danville.

Concert With 300 Singers and 71st Regiment N. Y. G. Band, Sunday Before the Fair Opens

Sunday before the official opening of the seventeenth annual Kentucky State Fair scheduled to be held in Louisville the week of September 8-13, the State Fair grounds will be the scene of one of the most picturesque, enjoyable and musical entertainments of fair history, in the grand sacred concert to be thrillingly rendered by a massed chorus of three hundred or more voices, accompanied by the famous 71st Regiment New York Guards Band.

The 71st is an organization which "made musical history" during the war and figured in much of the important war work of the metropolis. The band is also in constant demand for violin and piano-player record work and rates as second to none in this line.

The organization is made up of forty well-trained, strikingly-uniformed players, led by the dashing, attractive, gifted leader, Lieut. Lambert L. Eben. The repertoire to be offered by this band will include some of the most pretentious and beautiful compositions of the musical world and singers with the 71st, as well as of the Louisville Jubilee Choral Association furnishing the three hundred voices for the chorals, will figure spectacularly in the solo numbers.

The view of the fair itself, ready for the gates to swing wide on the first celebration in four years unshadowed by the clouds of war, promises a panorama of striking beauty and impressiveness. As far as the eye can reach will be spread out the bonanzas of Nature has lavished on a fortunate land and the celebration should, and doubtless will, hold for many a far deeper significance, and arouse a greater depth of genuine thanksgiving, than any exhibition has heretofore offered in State Fair history.

MYRIAD MIDWAY WONDERS AT COMING STATE FAIR

After a year's efforts in life's vigorous school the Midway of the Kentucky State Fair offers old and young alike a "recess" which is as enjoyable as it is ephemeral. And after the especially trying and saddening times of the war a playtime and a playground is especially appealing.

In order to mark the momentous and joyous occasion of this first reunion in four years unshadowed by the clouds of war, the State Fair management has secured an attractive array of features in the World at Home Shows, which are descriptively named, as it is claimed that the eighteen or twenty attractions gathered under the banners of the World at Home were gleaned from many parts of the globe and bring to the fair visitors the wonders and amusements of foreign lands.

One feature which the crowds will find vividly alluring and spectacularly beautiful is the exhibition called "The La Rose Electric Fountain," said to be one of the newest and most thrilling effects ever carried with a carnival staged on one of the smallest perpendicular race tracks in America.

La Fayette the Great and his imitable mysteries are said to be rivaled in the offering of Omar Sami, and his "House of a Thousand Wonders."

A small but potent entertainer is to greet fair visitors in the person of the Princess Elizabeth, "wonder doll of the world." This elfin creature is only 32 inches high and weighs only 27 pounds.

In addition to the great array of entertaining features contained in the roster of the World at Home Shows, there are several musical organizations of merit, and a half dozen novel riding devices.

MULE ARISTOCRATS ENTERED

A mule snake carrying premium awards of $1,000 was introduced at the Kentucky State Fair in 1918. This was a sum hitherto unprecedented in a like event, and the announcement aroused keen interest among breeders and owners.

At the fair to be held in Louisville the week of September 8-13, of this year, this same money will be offered and in consequence the entry lists will carry some of the best stock in the country.

Of the assured entries it is said that one of the greatest jack colts ever foaled will come from Montgomery county, and a yearling and jack likewise said to be wonders. Clark county will be represented by a foal between six and twelve months old whose ears measure 32 inches in length and who is in other respects a wonder. Nelson, Washington and Shelby are boasting of the stock they will send and Boyle county which has carried away the ribbons for a number of years, expects to repeat the performance. Altogether the mule and jack class bids fair to be one of the liveliest stock features of the seventeenth annual celebration.

WAR BALLOON EXHIBITION PROMISES THRILLS AT FAIR

The Kentucky State Fair management is unable to state definitely as yet that an exhibition of balloon flights and parachute drops will be an unprecedented attraction at the Kentucky State Fair the week of September 8-13, but there is every indication that the Government will sanction the showing which will be one of the most interesting the fair has ever presented.

It is the plan and plea of the State Fair management that the 31st U. S. Balloon Company be stationed on the grounds during the fair and if this request is granted the entire company will figure in balloon ascensions, parachute drops and balloon flights which will give sensational illustration of war-time maneuvers in the air.

Among the "sky vessels" will be the great "Sunrise Balloons" used in observation work during the war, and the dirigible balloon will also be an attraction of unusual interest by reason of the fact that there are few pilots in civilian life who can manage them and they are therefore seldom on exhibition. Public attention will center on this balloon it is said, by reason of their enormous size and their adaptability to maneuvering, bombing, etc.

But the attention and interest of the crowds will undoubtedly center on the mammoth captive balloons in which passengers may daily soar cloudward and thereby gather some idea in advance of the method of travel predicted as a common carrier in the near future.

company. There are said to be 15,000 gallons of water hurled into mid-air by this fountain at every performance, the thunderous waves falling over statuesque groupings of Venus-like living models while aurora-like flames color the falls and graceful nymphs dance in the spray.

Another attraction of aqueous type is the sensational performance of the world's champion body fancy and trick diver, Lucile Anderson, and her company of mermaids. Miss Anderson is known as the "Amphibian Wonder" and her under-water feats and endurance tests are said to be unbelievable.

An exceptional feature is heralded in a show called "Chinatown." Unlike the average flimsy pretense at Orientalism, this offering is said to faithfully duplicate the dark, mysterious underground world which was once San Francisco's Chinatown before the great earthquake wiped this cesspool of sin from the earth.

Good, rousing excitement will be offered in the Polack Brothers Big Indoor Circus, with its rough-riding, animal acts and gun-play, as well as in the Hager motorcycle and automobile racing features which will be

U. S. Leads In Hogs

The U. S. has produced an enormous amount of meat in the past few years. The country owns about one seventh of all the cattle in the world, but it is in growing and fattening hogs that the U. S. excels all other countries. About one third of the 180,000,000 swine on the globe are right here in the States. This year the U. S. has more hogs than her ten nearest competitors combined.

It was Benserade, we think, who wrote:

In bed we laugh, in bed we cry,
And born in bed, in bed we die.
The near approach a bed may show
Of human bliss to human woe.

Well, if that's the case, a man's bed comes pretty close to being a pet institution in his career.
It gets, in fact, to be a habit.
And every man is fussy about his habits, by cracky.
If the sleep habit consumes one-third, or even one-fourth of a man's time, you can bet your bonnet he's going to be mighty particular about the kind of bed he sleeps in—

Let Congress Act

At least two opportunities have been given to the Republican Congress to move toward a reduction in the cost of living without at the same time impairing the wages of workers or the fair profits of producers. The Federal Trade Commission's reports on the packing industry, which is charged with an attempt to restrain trade and monopolize the production and distribution of staple foods, and Governor Cox's attack on exploiters and profiteers in Ohio, give inspiration and occasion for a Congressional inquiry and remedy if the Republicans really wish to legislate for the entire country instead of acting or omitting to act for the benefit of special interests.

There is a general feeling that the present expense of living has outrun any fair ratio to the cost of production and distribution. There is a conviction that those who supply the public need for food and clothing and other commodities are manipulating profiteering without conscience or curb.

The people look to the Republican Congress for action that will correct the conditions of which the Federal Trade Commission and Governor Cox—among thousands—are complaining. There can be no escape from this duty the people without incurring the odium of indifference to the country's welfare or the guilt of collusion with the profiteers. The Democrats have shown the way. Let the Republican majority suit its acts to the necessities.

PEARSON JUMPS QUICKLY TO FRONT

There isn't an auctioneer and real estate man in Kentucky who has jumped to the front rank and held his own with the seasoned veterans as quickly and as well as Col. James Pearson, Richmond's silver-tongued young auctioneer. The work that Col. Pearson is doing is attracting attention of all the big real estate firms, and his services are in demand constantly. He was forced to resign a good position at the postoffice to take care of the auctioneering business

Col. Pearson is just back from Grayson, Carter county, where he assisted the Wakefield-Davis Realty Company with a big let sale. He goes to Pewee Valley, on the 23rd to hold a sale for Riner and Hanna, of Shelbyville. A few days ago he was up in Hamilton, Ohio, on another big deal with the Wakefield-Davis people, and he is in constant demand on all sides. The reason is not hard to find, for Pearson is young, and has the nerve and pep to go after things and not stop until he attains his objective. Such a fellow can't be stopped, and there won't be any heading of Pearson until he is right on the front rank of the real estate and auctioneers in this part of the state. He is planning to open a real estate office in Richmond very soon, it is understood, and prepared himself to handle any kind of a proposition in his line.

BIG - LAND - SALE

400 Acres of the Best Land In Fayette County

Five miles from Lexington on the old Frankfort pike will be sold in four tracts with good improvements and good water on each tract.

Wednesday, August 27th

ON THE PREMISES

Having decided to quit farming and devote our entire time to our TOBACCO WAREHOUSE BUSINESS, we are offering at public auction our farm located about 5 miles from Lexington on the Old Frankfort pike, and adjoining the Stock Farms of Mrs. Dinmore Steele, C. C. Patrick and E. R. Bradley. Without fear of being accused of boasting, we are frank to say that this is one of the best farms we have ever been connected with. It needs no real estate boost, as the growing crops on this farm speak for its productiveness.

It is a recognized fact that the best producing land in Central Kentucky, "and that means the world" is down the Old Frankfort Pike to Midway, and north to Paynes Depot section along the banks of old Elkhorn Creek. The soil is of the Red Phosphate formation, which means the quickest and surest producing soil on earth. "This farm is in that section." If you are in the market for a farm, go see this before the day of sale, or call the undersigned, and we will be glad to take you out and show it to you.

TRACT NO. 1—Containing 166 acres fronting on the Old Frankfort Pike, is known as the home tract with the main residence and all necessary out-buildings, such as garage, stock barn, corn crib, tenant house and 18 acre tobacco barn, all of which are in splendid repair. Also is well watered by everlasting springs, and all fences good as new. 100 acres in Blue Grass and clover.

TRACT NO. 2—Containing 107 acres, facing on the Old Frankfort Pike, on the north and the Elkhorn pike on the south, is all in grass, except 15 acres now in tobacco. The improvements consist of good tenant's house and out-buildings, and a new 15 acre tobacco barn just completed. All fences practically new, and is well watered with everlasting springs.

TRACT NO. 3—Containing 137 acres, facing on the Elkhorn pike, and one mile from Elkhorn station, has a new 15 acre tobacco barn just completed and all fences good as new. Well watered by everlasting springs. 60 acres of this tract is now in clover and the balance in corn.

TRACT NO. 4—Containing 65 acres on the Elkhorn pike and within 3-4 of a mile from Elkhorn station, has on it a good house, a 5 acre tobacco barn, and other necessary improvements, all in good repair. 50 acres of this tract is in old Blue Grass sod, the balance in corn, well fenced and well watered by two everlasting springs.

Mrs. Harry B. Hanger Sr. entertained with a beautiful luncheon at the Country Club, Lexington, Wednesday, Mrs. Paul Collins, of Bellingham, Washington, being the guest of honor. Covers were laid for the following guests: Mrs. Paul Collins, Bellingham, Washington, Mrs. Harry B. Hanger, Sr., Mrs. Waller Bennett, Mrs. A. K. McCowan, Mrs. B. L. Middleton, Mrs. Harry Hanger, Jr., Miss Helen Bennett, Miss Elizabeth Hanger and Miss Margaret B. Parrish, of Richmond, and Mrs. Nelson Gay, of Winchester, Mrs. Silas Mason, Mrs. Henry Bosworth, Mrs. L. N. Bosworth and Mrs. John Coleman, of Lexington. The guests were seated in a private dining room where beautiful place cards marked each seat. The table decorations were especially attractive, consisting of a lovely basket filled with yellow carnations and white hydrangeas, tied with a bow of yellow tulle, which gave a beautiful effect to the long table. Yellow and white mints were in cut glass compots at each end. An elaborate four-course luncheon was served, consisting of iced melon, fried chicken, beaten biscuit, peas, corn-pudding, tomato salad on lettuce leaf, peach cream and individual cakes, nuts and mints.

After the luncheon, the guests enjoyed the cooling breezes on the long verandas, and it was a picturesque scene to watch the numerous golf players, the ladies attired in all the bright shades of the season, which with nature's gorgeous background of lovely green, at this famous resort and the summer breezes made one feel as if the seashore was near. Another attractive feature enjoyed by the guests was the swimming pool, which was as clear as crystal and filled with many beautiful mermaids.

This hospitality of Mrs. Hanger was thoroughly enjoyed by all and was quite in keeping with the many charming affairs given by this gracious hostess.

Health About Gone

Many thousands of women suffering from womanly trouble, have been benefited by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, according to letters we receive, similar to this one from Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I could not stand on my feet, and just suffered terribly," she says. "As my suffering was so great, and he had tried other remedies, Dr. — had us get Cardui. . . I began improving, and it cured me. I know, and my doctor knows, what Cardui did for me, for my nerves and health were about gone."

TAKE

The Woman's Tonic

She writes further: "I am in splendid health . . . can do my work. I feel I owe it to Cardui, for I was in dreadful condition." If you are nervous, run-down and weak, or suffer from headache, backache, etc., every month, try Cardui. Thousands of women praise this medicine for the good it has done them, and many physicians who have used Cardui successfully with their women patients, for years, endorse this medicine. Think what it means to be in splendid health, like Mrs. Spell. Give Cardui a trial.

JUDGE CHENAULT

Writes From South About A Mississippi Fish Fry.

Editor of Richmond Register:—

I thought some of your readers might enjoy reading a few lines from the sunny southland and if you think so may insert this:

We had with us on the 6th and 7th inst. Mr. J. C. Hendren and his son-in-law, Mr. Broadus. You have no idea how much pleasure it gives us to have one from old Madison county. We therefore state to any of the home folks they are welcome at Ivy, and we sure will kill a chicken and churn whoever may come.

I headed this note a Mississippi Fish Fry. We have nearly everything here to eat that can be procured anywhere, but I believe we excel most inland places in the abundance of fish. It is a common thing to hear one talk of being at a fish fry or saying he is going to one.

On Thursday last we were notified or in some got word that on the next day there would be a fish fry at our flowing well in the bottom. We learned in some way or from some one we were expected, but were unable to learn who was really in charge of the affair or expected to direct proceedings. A Mr. and Mrs. Ballard, of West Point, are visiting in the neighborhood, and it was for their benefit especially, the fry was to be had. It was evident on Friday morning that the fry was to certainly take place. Seins were in evidence and negroes a plenty were being loaded with wagons preparatory for transportation to Shuquontshee River where the fish were to be caught for the fry. I was anxious to see the catch and therefore mounted a mule and followed the procession. It was certainly interesting to see about fifteen stalwart negroes with their ebony colored skin in that river pulling a sein that appeared too heavy to be pulled with a team of horses. But they certainly got fish and in a short time we had near a hundred pounds, and off to the well with them. All who had been with the seiners were very much surprised to see the crowd at the well. There must have been at least 50 white persons and half as many negroes.

It may be interesting and instructive to tell how the cooking was done. The neighbors had brought their coals and houseboys along to prepare the fish for cooking. A large kettle that would hold about ten gallons was placed on a fire and filled about two thirds full of lard. Shortly it was boiling and a receptacle that reminded me of our muzzles to prevent our mules from eating corn while plowing, was filled with the dressed fish and lowered into this boiling lard. In a short time the fish was brown and emptied into a bucket and this was kept up until we had two water buckets full. Table cloths were then spread on the soft Bermuda grass and other edibles that the ladies had brought were put on these cloths. One dish, or edible, was absolutely new to me. In the same pot where the fish was fried, corn was put and in a few minutes we had fried corn on the cob. I must say to you that it was the best fried corn I ever ate.

No better fish or corn was ever eaten, according to my judgment I am certain the others present thought the same, for fish, corn and other edibles that the ladies brought vanished fast. I feared that the great crowd of negroes would have to go unfed, but not so. There must have been a bushel of fish after their heads were removed and after every white person had eaten there was quite a lot left, but not enough to feed the negroes. I felt bad about it for they had done all the work and I wanted them fed. I spoke to one of the negro cooks and asked her if she thought she could stretch the remainder so that every negro present would get a piece. She said to me, "Why dose niggers will git plenty," at the same time raising a newspaper and displaying about a hundred fish heads ranging in size from a tea cup to a saucer, and continued, "dese goes in de pot last an' de niggers like 'em better dan any part of de fish."

Her explanation reminded me of a song I used to hear the negroes sing when I was a child at Old Cane Springs, two lines of which with the "hears" ran thus:

"Old Massa and Missus killed a sheep
Hadiddleed, hadiddleed
He gave poor nigger head and feet"
At any rate every one got all they could eat and a more enjoyable neighborhood gathering seldom, if ever, occurred.

JOHN C. CHENAULT.

Exhibit Will Be Bigger

Last year visitors to the State Fair were pleased and impressed with the exhibit of the College of Agriculture in the Grand Stand building. Live stock, dairying, soils and farm management will all have impressive displays. Lady Walnut Hill, the Kentucky hen that holds the world's record for non-stop laying, will be one of the features of the exhibit. The farmer's good wife who enjoys the canning display made by the club girls, will be glad to have an opportunity to meet this wonderful hen.

The State Railroad Commission has entered an order requiring the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company to build a new passenger depot at Covington, which must be completed by June 1, 1920.

PUBLIC SALE

OF

573 Acres of Blue Grass Land
Every Foot of Which Will Raise Tobacco

On Tuesday, Sept. 2, 1919

AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M., ON THE PREMISES

I will offer for sale publicly for Mrs. Mary Harris Clay, of Bourbon county, her farm situated about six miles south of Richmond, at Harris Flats on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, and on the Menalus pike, in Madison county, Kentucky.

This is part of the famous "Blythewood" farm which was owned and operated by the late Major John D. Harris. This farm is well known all over Kentucky, and everyone who knows it is of the opinion that there is no better land in world.

Every acre will produce the finest grade of tobacco. All of the farm except 90 acres is now in grass and has been for a number of years. The grass is of the finest quality and never fails to produce a grade of cattle which is unsurpassed in the Bluegrass region.

The whole farm is now ready for the production of tobacco, corn, hemp, wheat, in fact anything that any farm in this climate can produce.

This Land will be sold in Tracts as follows:

TRACT No. 1—Situated on the east of the Menalus pike, no improvements except good stock scales and lot; good pond fed by an everlasting spring. All in bluegrass and has been for a number of years. Bounded by the L. & N. Railroad on the north and the Menalus pike on the west, containing 142.62 acres.

TRACT No. 2—Situated on the west side of the Menalus pike and fronting on the L. & N. Railroad on the east. On this tract is a four room cottage and two tenant houses and the LARGEST TOBACCO BARN IN MADISON COUNTY. Will hold 30 acres of tobacco. This tract is watered by a large concrete tank, fed by a spring, is all in bluegrass except about 70 or 75 acres which is in corn or tobacco. This tract contains 200 and a fraction acres.

TRACT No. 3—Adjoins tract No. 2 on the south and contains 229.87 acres. This tract is all in grass except 15 acres and every foot of it is ready for tobacco. This tract is watered by a large concrete tank fed by an everlasting spring, and also the south line of this tract is Silver Creek.

All of the above tracts front on the Menalus pike and have good building sites on them. It is very seldom that you have an opportunity to purchase land in as high a state of cultivation as all of these lands. In fact, THERE IS NO FARM IN MADISON COUNTY IN AS HIGH A STATE OF CULTIVATION AS THE ABOVE LANDS.

THIS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY

DON'T FORGET THE DATE—TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2nd, 1919, at 10 A. M.

Terms will be made known on day of sale and will be liberal.

Mr. T. J. Curtis or the undersigned will take pleasure in showing this farm to prospective purchasers.

CRIMSON CLOVER IN SUNNY TENNESSEE

Winchester, Tenn., Aug. 21.

Crimson Clover was first grown in Franklin county in 1880. It is estimated that in 1914 there were 100 acres; in 1915 400 acres; in 1916 1000 acres; in 1917, the average fell off due to late seeding and winter injury. In 1918, the farmers of this county harvested 4500 to 5000 acres. These figures give this county first place as a Crimson Clover center. It is believed that more seed will be harvested this year in Franklin than in all other counties in the state combined. Buyers from the East have been there contracting by the carlot. Aside from the present stiff demand and good prices (it is rumored that the seed is being used in the dye industry), crimson clover should be grown for three important reasons.

Winter Grazing—For hogs, sheep, cows and calves, it is the best of all winter pastures. Pastured until April 10th, it gives a better yield and prevents lodging.

Soil Builder—Crimson clover turned under is worth 20 loads of barnyard manure, it adds 80 pounds of nitrogen to the acre. If 150 pounds acid phosphate are used, it improves the soil, even cut for seed, in fact we have found that the best wheat is grown after crimson clover that has been cut for seed.

Money Crop—The average yield in this county has been seven bushels to the acre. If this average is maintained the crop will easily net us well over $700,000, and this high figure is now being conceded by our bankers.

How To Succeed With Crimson Clover
We prepare our land in July, prefer grain stubble. We subsoil and disc often until ready to seed. A good time seed it just late enough that the weeds will not take it before frost. Seed bed must be firm and well settled. Seed very shallow, when there is plenty of moisture. Avoid leaving furrows and ridges. In dry weather it is advisable to roll with corrugated roller, rarely advisable to use smooth roller, we use a Cultipacker.

Early seeding is best, if moisture is plentiful. Take advantage of the first seasonal rain in August and sow 12 to 15 pounds of seed per acre, increasing the amount on poor spots and on borders of fields to offset damages by grasshoppers. Crimson clover needs phosphate in abundance, —it will pay to use 150 to 200 pounds acid phosphate, in the increased yield of seed and nitrogen in the soil. Lime and stable manure are good. All these fertilizers should be disked in before seeding.

Pasturing Crimson Clover
In Franklin county we pasture our crimson clover a great deal. If the seed bed is well prepared in the latter part of July or early in August and the season following that is favorable, we find that the pasture is worth quite a bit to the dairyman and hogman in his county. During the winter months, when the clover is covered with snow, we encourage the feeding of cotton seed meal to our cattle and tanage to our hogs, however, later on, about the middle of February to the first of March, our milk cows and our hogs go to crimson clover. This reduces our nitrogenous feeds and increases the production of milk and pork to a large extent. Our cows have been known to double in milk production and our hogs to gain at least a quarter of a pound more per day with half as much grain. When we tell you the story of crimson clover, we will tell you the story of Franklin county which reaches from the red barren hills to the carpet of green. You can walk all over the county on a perfect sod of crimson clover, and in every field you will find it literally covered with cows and pigs. There is no crop in this county that yields so much per acre in so many ways. Cattle are taken off the crimson clover about the 8th to 15th of April. When the crimson begins to boot it is time to remove the stock from the field, because after that stage if it is grazed it will not seed.

Time To Cut Crimson
Crimson clover should be cut when the heads slip easily,—with just a little effort. If the farmer waits a day or two days longer than this the crimson clover will get so ripe that he will lose one-fourth to one-half of his crop and if it is cut very much earlier than this—while some of the heads are partially green—it will be difficult to keep the seed while it is going through the sweat, and even after it is hulled to keep the seed when it is sacked; then a large number of seed will be small and green when they should be large and yellow. This depreciates the value of the seed about one or two dollars per bushel. When all the leaves are yellow, with a few at the bottom that are brown, is pretty good indication that it is time to cut the crimson. By this time you will generally find that the heads are brown also.

Saving Of The Seed
We cut our crimson clover with the crimson clover reaper. We do most of our hulling with the Birdsell HULLER. The reaper has a side delivery rake which throws the crimson to one side out of the way of the team and also bunches it. It can generally be taken up then the following day if the sun is hot and the seed are very ripe when cut, in this event, if there is no rain, you will get the very best seed. In case you have rain it is never advisable to rake it as you would hay or red clover, but it should be turned over easily with the handle of your pitch fork if this is necessary in order to have it dry.

The seed are very, very easily hulled upon exposure to the sun and the greatest care. You should have a tight wagon to haul them in, or else your wagon bed should be covered with thick canvas to prevent the seed from falling through. It is well also to have the floor of the barn tight, in order not to lose any seed through the cracks, the weight of the crimson will cause some of it to hull out. Crimson should stay in the barn about four to six weeks, until it gets through the sweat then it will be all right to hull. Our hullermen charge more for hulling it in the field than they do for hulling it from the barn in that they cannot work until the dew is off and then they are forced to quit rather early in the afternoon.

Yield of Seed
In 1916 the average yield of seed in Franklin county was 6 1/4 bushels, in 1917 the average 7 1/4 bushels. Our highest yield in 1916 was 12 1/2 bushels per acre on eleven acres, our highest yield in 1917 was 15.8 bushels on eight acres and our highest yield 1918 was 17 1/2 bushels on one acre.

Meetings A Successes
Farmer's Community Meeting were held at Maysville, Flemingsburg and Toleboro the week of the 11th of this month. Good crowds of thoroughly interested people are reported from all points. During the remainder of the season meetings will be held in the western portion of the State. Meetings are already scheduled for Daviess, Breckinridge, Meade, Union, Webster and Crittenden counties the week of the eighteenth.

At the sale of O. D. Harrison in Garrard high prices were realized. Milk cows sold from $100 to $125 per head; shoats 30 cents per pound; corn $12 a barrel; hay, $30 per ton. Farming implements, household and kitchen furniture sold for splendid prices.

Says Local Boys "Cleaned Up"

The Danville Advocate said the other day: The Richmond colored team slipped one over on the Danville colored nine yesterday on Cheek Field in a thrilling fourteen inning contest by a 5-4 score. Before the game each team had defeated the other one and the crucial game called for a lot of financial support from the followers of both sides. The Richmond aggregation went home richer last night and highly elated over their victory.

WHY WOMEN SUFFER

Some do it from ignorance: some from carelessness: some in a spirit of martyrdom and some from a mistaken sense of duty impelling them to go on sacrificing themselves for others, until they "drop in their tracks".

Thousands of women have learned better; have found out that it's wrong to suffer from the peculiar ills of womanhood; because they need not do it.

STELLA VITAE, the old-time "Woman's Relief," "Mother's Cordial" has been helping the women of the South to health and happiness for half a century.

It is the prescription of a famous old Southern doctor and has proved successful with thousands of women and young girls.

STELLA VITAE is compounded in the laboratories of the Thacker Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and sold by all druggists at a moderate price. Money refunded if the first bottle fails to help.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART!

The experience of a woman who has successfully passed the "changes" is valuable. This lady tells of the "bridge that carried her over."

"I was in a most wretched condition, at that most critical time in a woman's life, 'the change.' I had palpitation of the heart and would swell and blot in a very distressing way."

"I took five bottles of STELLA VITAE, and I am happy to say that it cured me. When I began I weighed only 108 pounds. I now weigh 135 pounds."—Mrs. E. M. Russell, N. C.
